Before You Go

- Choose a safe destination. Do some research before you book your trip to make sure you're going to a place that's safe for tourists. Check the travel advisories for your country and read reviews from other travelers.
- Book your accommodations in advance. This will help you avoid getting stuck in a dangerous or uncomfortable situation. Make sure you're booking through a reputable company and read the reviews before you book.

- Get travel insurance. This will protect you in case of an emergency, such as a medical emergency or lost luggage.
- Make copies of your important documents. Keep a copy of your passport, visa, and travel itinerary in a separate location from the originals. This will come in handy if you lose your originals.
- Let someone know where you're going. Give a copy of your itinerary to a friend or family member and let them know when you expect to return.

During Your Trip

- Be aware of your surroundings. Pay attention to the people and things around you. If you see something suspicious, report it to the authorities.
- Don't walk around alone at night. If you must walk alone, stay in well-lit areas and be aware of your surroundings.
- Be careful about what you eat and drink. Only eat food that has been cooked properly and avoid drinking tap water in some countries.
- Don't overindulge in alcohol. Alcohol can impair your judgment and make you more vulnerable to crime.
- Keep your valuables safe. Don't carry large amounts of cash or jewelry. Keep your valuables in a safe place, such as a hotel safe or a money belt.

If You're a Victim of a Crime

- Stay calm and don't panic.
- Call the police.
- Report the crime to the U.S. embassy or consulate.
- Get medical attention if you need it.
- Contact your travel insurance company.

Additional Tips for Traveling with Children

- Make sure your children have their own passports and visas.
- Carry a photo of your children with you. This will come in handy if you get separated.
- Teach your children about safety. Make sure they know not to talk to strangers or go anywhere with them. They should also know to stay close to you at all times.
- Pack a first-aid kit and other essentials for your children.
- Be patient and understanding. Traveling with children can be stressful, so be patient and understanding with them.

Planning a safe and enjoyable holiday is important for everyone, but it's especially important for families with children. By following the tips in this guide, you can help ensure that your holiday is safe and memorable.
